MOUNT ARARAT EXPEDITION

Mount Ararat is a snow-capped and dormant volcano in the east of Turkey. It consists of two major volcanic cones: Greater Ararat and Little Ararat. Greater Ararat is the highest peak in Turkey with its summit of 5.137 m. Ararat is the third most prominent mountain in West Asia.

The best weather condition to climb Mount Ararat is in July and August.

The mountain has been called by the name Ararat since the Middle Ages, as it began to be identified with the "mountains of Ararat" described in the Bible as the resting place of Noah's Ark.

Mount Ararat is located in the Eastern Anatolia Region of Turkey between the provinces of Ağrı and Iğdır, near the border with Iran, Armenia and Nakhchivan, between the Aras and Murat rivers.

For better acclimatization we recommend you climb another mountain before your Ararat escalade. We propose you book our Kaçkar Highlands trekking program as the acclimatization tour.

Professional Tour Leaders using GPS and walkie & talkie, transfers, equipment transfers by mules, camping equipment, accommodation 2 nights in hotel & 5 nights in camp, cooking service in camp and farewell dinner are included in our tour packages.

Mount Ararat Expedition is suitable for fit walkers who are used to trekking on rough, sometimes rocky ground for 8 - 9 hours.

Summit day on Ararat might be a 10-hour round trip. It involves walking on snow which can be icy and although not steep, you may need to wear crampons.

Walking holidays are a fabulous way of enjoying physical challenges surrounded by the fantastic scenery of nature.
